Project description

For one of the leading IWPP companies in southeast Asia, RWE carried out various consultancy services – most notably providing long term support through provision of onsite power plant specialists and O&M experts, supporting and mentoring the clients plant operator team.

The key objective of our long-term support is to transform knowledge and international practice in the areas of power plant operation and management to the client and our local counterpart staff. With our collaborative approach and mentoring support we contribute to continuous improvement and staff development in operating and managing power plants.
